12. CITY COMMISSION COMMENTS, REQUESTS & REPORTS:

Commissioner Howington spoke regarding how proud she is of the dais' actions this evening, holding developers accountable, decisions affecting Deltona for generations to come, stormwater, Hampton Oaks issues, developer issues, City having to step in, keeping up to date on repairs, and who is accountable.

Commissioner Avila-Vazquez spoke regarding complaints from residents about solicitors selling things.

City Attorney Good suggested looking into a citywide anti-soliciting ordinance and noted these generally target to morning/evening hours and have specific parameters. He noted there were regulations and restrictions already placed on solar through the PACE program and there may be interlocal agreements to adhere to but the City Attorneys will look into drafting an ordinance with those in mind.

Commissioner Avila-Vazquez requested if the Commission could raise [recognitions] at least to two veterans that can be recognized during the meeting per Commissioner, veterans who live in the City of Deltona and the Commission concurred.

Commissioner Avila-Vazquez discussed a concern from Former Commissioner Anita Bradford about the kids having to cross Howland Boulevard in order to get to and from Deltona High School. Former Commissioner Bradford suggested an overpass for the students who often have to cross the street and wait a long time for the crosswalk to change.

Commissioner Santiago gave an update about the potential upgrades to Howland Boulevard discussed by the Volusia County Council.

Commissioner Avila-Vazquez requested that the City consider bringing the policies and procedures into digital records and potentially having them on the City website.

Commissioner Avila-Vazquez reminded everyone that March 29th is National Vietnam Veterans Day and wanted to thank staff for all their work on recent projects.

Commissioner Colwell requested an update on road repaving efforts within the City, specifically the dip in front of the fire station and Lowe's.

Commissioner Lulli spoke regarding the suggested improvement to Howland Boulevard and noted that the TPO (Transportation Planning Organization) call for projects is still open until March 31st. He mentioned a letter from Bike Walk Central Florida who has the ability to study the area to address the problem.

Commissioner Lulli asked when and if the Synergy at Normandy development was coming back to the Commission on April 7th.

Commissioner Lulli asked about the vinyl fencing between the Collinswood Development and the neighbourhood and if it could be brought into compliance with the development order that requires obscenity vegetation or a perimeter wall.

Commissioner Lulli requested consensus to explore acquiring through some means or method Vineland Reserve Phase 1 for either conservation or recreation and the Commission concurred.

Commissioner Santiago requested consensus for staff to take a look at [the County's geotechnical standard for storm water ponds] and present it to us and see if we can change our standards to have developers for the future look into having a better understand of storm water ponds and have them do better.

City Attorney Good stated that zoning in progress is currently ongoing and that staff can look into that if they have not already.

Commissioner Santiago requested consensus for staff to take a look and see if we can bring back some kind of metal detector on public property ordinance or something that we can take a look at and the Commission concurred.

Commissioner Howington noted that the budget workshop is May 3rd with additional meetings in July.

Commissioner Heriot discussed the prohibition of Commissioners and Planning & Zoning Board members communicating about items.

City Attorney Good said that the Commission adopted the by-laws regulating the Planning & Zoning Board (P&Z), which are in excess of what is required by the Sunshine Law and if it is the will of the board wanting to update the Resolution to be in conformity with what Sunshine requires.

Commissioner Heriot requested consensus because we each get an appointment to the P&Z for a reasons so we can confer with them and discuss items and make sure that that board has the same vision that our board has by bringing back a resolution that changes the by-laws to allow us to have conversation with individual members of the P&Z board and the Commission concurred.

The City Manager conveyed some information to previous questions throughout the meeting that was provided by staff: Deputy Public Works Director Phyllis Wallace suggested submitting the Howland Boulevard improvements to the TPO, the hole by the fire station has been called into the County several times, and Planning and Services Director Jordan Smith reported that the Synergy at Normandy item will be coming back to the Commission at the second meeting in April.

Mayor Avila spoke about the flooding subcommittee, Sunshine notices, Osteen/Deltona JPA, and mending relationships.

Mayor Avila requested consensus to look at the possibility of starting an Ordinance Review Board where each Commissioner can appoint one person. We keep finding things out of accident, I guess. If we can have an Ordinance Review Board that sunsets after a year unless the Commission decides to renew it, I think that would help clear up some of the bad ordinances we have on the books and the Commission concurred.

City Attorney Good noted that there is a Ordinance Review Committee already provided for in the Code of Ordinances, so, if it is the will of the board, the City Attorney can come forward with a resolution activating that committee with a sunset to a time certain. He also recommended that if the Commission moved forward with the Committee, the Commission would allow the City Manager and the City Attorneys to engage with a consultant to guide them and support them and look at the Code of Ordinances as a whole.

Vice Mayor Heriot added the caveat that a consultant and legal are represented on this board. He asked that all requests go through the City Attorney and that all changes still require the Commission's action.

Mayor Avila spoke concerning comments from the public forum portion of the meeting.
