BACKGROUND:

The Community Rating System (CRS) is a voluntary program under the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) that qualifies participating communities for reduced rates on flood insurance policies. The rating system is based on 19 activities that receive credit points by implementing local mitigation, outreach, and educational activities that go well beyond minimum NFIP requirements. Volusia County and 9 communities within the County currently participate in the CRS. On May 1, 2015, the City of Deltona joined in the Volusia Multi-Jurisdictional Program for Public Information, and the 5-year update to the Plan was prepared in November, 2020.
